GLORIES OF THE ORANGE.

THE HOLLAND SOCIETY'S DINNER.

SPEECHES BY R. B. ROOSEVELT, ABRAHAM LANS ING, CHARLES P. DALY, GENERAL

The sixth annual dinner of the Holland Society of New-York was one of its greatest and its fortunate. The demand for seals at the tables has reased year by year, and last evening the management sought to meet it by engaging the Lenox Lyceum for a dining hall, where not only all the members and mests of the society were accommodated, but a ant array of the ladies of their families scintillated the boxes. The result was not happy. It was a lorious gathering, and the Holland Society never more occasion for shouting "oranje boven! orange on top," so far as the comestible part of dinner was concerned. Fine speeches, however, rere wasted on echoing air. Never had men more oc easion to curse Milton's "sweet echo, sweetest nymph," nd to wish that she would retire within her "aery an excellent concert hall, but for public speaking its onstic qualities are bad. When Robert B. Roosevelt. the president of the society, had delivered his address welcome in what, for all practical purposes, was dumb show, General Egbert L. Viele arose and asked the people at the tables and in the boxes to refrain from talking . But, chatter or no chatter, it was im possible to hear the speeches even at a foot's length om the speakers.

To the right and left of Robert B. Roosevelt, at the table on the dais, sat John R. Planten, Charles H. Winfield, Abraham Lansing, Edward Elsworth, ex-Judge Noah Davis, representing the St. David's Joseph W. Howe, the representative of the New-Englanders; John Sloane, for the St. Andrew's laddies; F. W. J. Hurst, for St. George and Merrie England; George M. Van Hoesen, H. W. Bookstaver, P. Henry Dugro, Augustus Van Wyck, Charles Clair McKelway, General Egbert L. Viele, John C. Tomlinson, Jacob F. On the menu cards for a frontispiece was a photograph of pretty little Wilhelmina of Orange, Queen of the Netherlands, with the subscription, "Long Life and Happiness to Her." The wording of the menu was an adroit example of the caterer's art. He had a double bill-of-fare-one in Dutch, the other in French. And oh! the wicked purveyor that he was—the double-dealer—he had for the Dutchmen "Volmackie Soep in Haugsche stijl"-soup in the Hague style-while his alternate French card proclaimed it to be "Consomme a la St. Germain." And consomme it was sure enough. His "Zalm in Rotterdamsche stijl." salmon in Rottendam style, was, a la Francaise, "Saumon a la Venitienne." And so on right through the bill-even the simple sorbet figuring to the Dutch readers as ""Sorbet Orange Nassau," and to the French, ""Sorbet Imperial." But a fine dish tastes as "good" by one name as another. Dutch French, or humble English, it gets there allee samee. as say the Chinamen, whose language seems to be the only one that is utterly tabooed on "clvMized"

From Gouda also came the pipethat were distributed after the dinner- Gekronkelds Goudsche Pipjen entabak." Gouda is a city of 16,-000 inhabitants, half an hour's distance by rail from Rotterdam. About 2,000 of her inhabitants get their living by pipes; the rest, presumably, by cakes. They make and take the Goudsche cake and the ditto pipe and export them.

Among the letters of regret read was one from General P. J. Joubert, the George Washington of the Transvaal. General Joubert, writing from Amsterdam on December, 18, 1800, said: Notwithstanding my having many things to do yet

Notwithstanding in every moment, I do not wish to and visitors coming in every moment, I do not wish to leave without sending you a few words.

The warm sympathy and friendship I found everywhere in your country and among your people, and not the least from you and our most honored friend Van Sielen and so many other good men, always will live in my memors, and I once more most heartily wish to thank you for it.

I regret very much that the list of the names that went round at the dinner table, and also the one of the reception, did not return into my hands. I would have been giad to take them to my country, not only to know who were the gentlemen with whom I had the honor of spending the evening, but also to compare them with the names of our ancestors, children of the Huguenots, and to keep it among the archives for my descendants and posterity and my library.

In his address of welcome, President Roosevelt paid a warm compliment to General Joubert, and

I like to find other countries claiming more or less of the good qualities of our ancestors. At the last dinner of the good qualities of our ancestors. At the last dinner of the St. Andrew's Suciety our Scotch friends claimed that they had the pattence, endurance, doggedness, so to speak, of their succestors, and their courage and thrift. One or two of their succestors, and their courage and thrift. One or two of their speakers even claimed a little tolerance, but that was rather going beyond the truth and flying in the face of providence, as it were. The New-Englanders, as we have providence, as it were. The New-Englanders, as we have known all our lives, usurp the credit for most of what has been done for America, and goes as possessing all our excellences, after having for centuries devoted their attention to possessing themselves of most of our material good to possessing themselves of most of our material good the possessing and the providence of the providenc be, that she has a Queen of the pure Dutch lineage and that they got their royal line from Holland, for monarchist and republican the world over will admit that no truer or better specimen of womanhood in its highest sense exists than sits oday on the turone of Great Britain. Abraham Lansing, of Albany, made an able speech about "The Dutchman's fireside." Winfield. Edward Elsworth, of Poughkeepsie, discussed "Dutch Thrift."

St. Clair McKelway, of Brooklyn, spoke of "The the Hague, was the originator of the proposal for a Delftshaven to the Pilgrim Fathers. John S. Tomlinson responded for "The Puritan in Holland," Charles P. Daly for "New-Amsterdam" and Holland," Charles P. The reasons which the monk ascribes for this refusal are set forth in the following letter, which bears the date of yesterday: My dear Lord Bishop: I am much concerned by your reply to my letters. THE NATIONAL LEAGUE NONPLUSSED.

BOSTON MADE AN INEFFECTIVE FIGHT TO HAVE

ONE TEAM ONLY. The session of the baseball convention at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday was given up to a meetir of the conference committees, which it was hoped would speedily settle all baseball controversies. A. G. Spalding, John B. Day and C. H. Byrne represented the National League, and C. Von der Ahe, William Barnie and Allen W. Thurman looked out for the in terests of the American Association. John B. Day was detained downtown on jury duty in the United States Court and in consequence the conference committee did not go into secret session in Parlor F until party.

At 6:30 p. m. a recess was taken until /8, probably get in better humor over refreshments. The Associa- evening negotiations were broken off, and both George tion men were defiant, and had more demands to make than their friends in the League had anticipated. He took occasion to call attention to the phatic manner, which nonplussed the League, which was sustained by the flaidwin-Nathan wing of the fact that Samuel R. Thayer, the American Minister at has heretofore swung the parental rod over the As- party. sociation as it pleased.

C. Von der Ahe came on from St. Louis "loaded fo bear," as he expressed it, and as he is by long experience well versed in League tactics, nothing could sway him and the other Association men from their purpose. There was no discussion over the placing of an Association club in Chicago, for Spalding said the younger organization was welcome to put a club there when it saw fit. The real fight was over Boston, which the Leagu men will protect if possible. The Boston delegation, Messrs, Soden, Conant and Billings, arrived at 7 p. m., and as expected assumed a decidedly pugilistic a They said that they wanted no Association club in Boston, and did not propose to have one there if they ould prevent it. They thought that the rest of the League ought to protect them in their rights, but the for Eugene D. Berri, who got one other vote. The re-League will probably do nothing of the kind.

"Two clubs in Boston would prove a failure," said President A. H. Soden, "and it would be sheer nonsense to attempt such a course. It was tried last year and failed, and it will fall again. Why should we be forced to take two clubs when the other cities are to have but one?" Mr. Soden said that if the Association needed a club in the East, let it establish one in club to worship and not two.

Machael J. Kelly, the great catcher, created a scene in the corridors of the hotel about 8 o'clock. "The "After an honorable contest, with no persona king" sauntered in and something seemed to disturb aspersions of the character of either candidate, and in the corridors of the hotel about 8 o'clock. Turning to a friendly mountain of flesh beside him, "the King" gave this lordly greeting: "Oh, you're elected to the most important political office in King to the cigar counter and accepted a cigar and further honored a man as Mr. Forrester. But he promises "I will never play ball again for money, sec."

organization to be legally disbanded. One of the Players' League men said that their clubs

One of the Players' League men said that their clust were assured of good treatment. He intimated that if the League refused to make concessions to the Association that that organization and the Players' League would combine and arrange their circuit to suit themselves. They also wanted Cincinnati in their circuit, saying that the National League in going back to old methods ought to allow Cincinnati to take its old berth in the Association, where it properly belonged. The League could then put a club back in Indianapolis. The National League men laughed at the idea and called it about.

Association men contracted the sacretary and made if its tool for ten years, and that it was about time that the Association had a chance to better itself. The younger organization's spokesmen said that concessions had been made in other cities and that Boston would have to fail in line and do the same.

The report finally agreed upon was that the Association should have clubs in both Boston and Chicago, and this report will be submitted to the regular meetings of the two organizations to-day. It will of course be indorsed with great giee by the Association, but it will cause a fight in the National League camp. Still all the League clubs except Boston will vote for its adoption, and the final vote will probably be 7 to 1.

General Henry Brinker, of Rochester, and V. H. Ketchem and C. H. Morten, of the Toledo club, will make the only trouble for the American Association. They will demand exorbitant prices before they will retire from the Association, but will in the end probably accept much less.

INTENSE INTEREST IN THE MEETING OF THE KINGS COUNTY GENERAL COMMITTEE-GOOD FEELING BETWEEN THE CANDIDATES.

The first meeting of the Kings County Republican General Committee, held in the Brooklyn Athenaeum last evening, aroused intense interest owing to the close contest over the chairmanship. This place has been held for the last two years by Franklin Woodruff, of the First Ward, who was re-elected last year after the most bitter fight in the history of the party. The struggle ended last evening has been brief, for up to Saturday night it was hoped that a B. Forrester and W. W. Goodrich were nominated as candidates by their friends. The former received the Goodrich by 46 majority. He received 212 votes and George B.

The result was received with a storm of cheers and applause. Mr. Goodrich's election was then made unanimous and Mr. Forrester escorted him to the platform. Before surrendering the chair to his successor Mr. Woodruff made a brief speech. In introducing Brooklyn, New-Haven or Syracuse, but not in the city Mr. Goodrich, Mr. Woodruff said he presented a man of culture and beans, which wanted one representative | well known at Washington, well known at the bar and well known in the church.

Mr. Goodrich was warmly welcomed and said : one that will leave no bitterness behind, I have been a barrel of water." Thus relieved, "the King" strode County. Sullivan, who has just become president of the New-Amsterdam Club and is supposed to be booked for Revered and Dear Sir: Absence from home has prevented an earlier reply to your note of January 5. It is much to be regretted that you should have made your arrangements for public services in the city of Brooslyn before communicating with the ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese of Long Island. Yet as you now ask me for a license to efficiate in this diocese I must request you to place in my hands the usual canonical evidence of your good standing as a minister of the Church of England, and it is a minister of the Church of England and declaring that you are in regular mencing to daily be preper to add that no elengtumen of the Church of England, or of any other Church in communion with this Church, has ever been licensed in this diocese without compliance with these requirements. Very faithfully yours,

To this letter Father Ignatins replied, reiterating his regret for the mistake he had made, and inclosing his regret for the mistake he had made, and inclosing his regret for the mistake he had made, and inclosing his certificate of ordination and Bishop Potter's Bleense, his sense men seed to have an iron in the leadership of the Country Demonstration will hold their regular mentings to daily substitute that his applicant was unable to recent state of the Church of England for the Church of England f to Washington in Mr. Sullivan's Interest.

Mr. Cleveland that Governor Hill wanted Sullivan appointed without further delay. The earnestness and etermination of the Governor's emissaries woke up the President and he made Mr. Sullivan Collector without more ado.

The question is now asked, "Haven't the Counties been somewhat hasty in taking as their prospective leader a man under so much obligation to Governor Hill!" Said an observing member of the anti-Hill forces yesterday: "The great minds of the County Democracy have made another blunder which they may pay dearly for not many months hence. Hill has mortgage on Sullivan's political services, and you may be sure that he will foreclose at a very inconv time for Grover Cleveland's aspirations."

A short time before the last election Mr. Sulliva A short time before the last election Mr. Sellivan, whose name appeared upon the rolls of Tammany Hall, and who had been a more or less active member of that body during his term of office as Collector, resigned from the Wigwam. The explanation which is current for this course on the part of Mr. Sullyan is that his withdrawal from the Fourteenth st. tepec was due to the influence of ex-Mayer Grace. "Mr. Grace." said a well-known Democrat last evening, "persuaded Mr. Sullyan that Grant would certainly be defeated, and added significantly that his successor would have some very desirable commissionerships to give out next May. Mr. Sullivan, who had found office holding a pleasant occupation, took the hint and shook the dust of Tammany from his pedal extremities."

THE FARMER LEGISLATURE OF KANSAS. Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 13.-A dispatch to "The star," from Topeka, Kan., says: "After a continuous ession of twelve hours the caucus of the Alliance impleted at 3 o'clock this morning a list of officers for the lower house. It has been the general opinion that the Alliance members would do very little caucus-ing. It is evident that they will do a great deal of it. P. P. Elder, of Franklin County, was agreed upon for Speaker and Benjamin Elch for chief clerk. Promptly at 12 o'clock to day the organization of the Legislature began. The appearance of the Granger legislators was a surprise to all. They are a most respectable looking set of men with much in-telligence expressed in their faces. Ninety per cent of them wear turn-down collars with plain black ties. of the reunion was files baptism of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, the Rev. Mr. Dwight officiating; the singing of a golding wedding; the singing of a golding wedding Song, composed by the Rev. Mr. Dwight, and the reading of a noriginal poem by Mrs. M. J. Francisco, of Rutland, Vt., a relative of the family. Over 400 invitations were issued. Relatives of the family were present from all sections of the country, some of whom witnessed the original cere mony.

Among the guests were the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hall, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Voorhees, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Debevoise, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar from Mr. Ingalls and renders list decidence with the country of the property of the p

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 13.—The Supreme Court allowed ex-Governor Thayer to file a quo warranto petition this morning citing Governor Boyd to show cause why he should not vacate his office. "However," the court continued, "we recognize James E. Boyd as the legal Governor of Nebraska, and all the State Departments do likewise. We would advise the ex-Governor quietly and peaceably to submit to the Governor as it will do him no good to resist further." In spite of this. Thayer refuses to vacate his office. The Board of Public Lands and Buildings say they will remove Thayer from the Governor's room by force if necessary.

Among the bills introduced in the Legislature was one providing for state publication of school books, one maximum freight bill and half a dozen making promis-sory notes non-negotiable. The session was short and interesting.

SENATOR MITCHELL RENOMINATED.

Washington, Jan. 13 .- Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, to-night received a dispatch from F. A. Moore, chairman of the Republican Legislative caucus, announcing that in a caucus this evening, at which every Republican member of the Legislature was present, he was renominated by acclamation as his own successor the United States Senate. Senator Mitchell's election is assured.

TO SEND A COMMITTEE TO WASHINGTON.

The regular monthly meeting of the Harlem Republican Crub was held last night and the new officers elected last month were formally installed. On taking the chair President Washington Winsor made an excellent speech, which was enthusiastically received. The recommendation of the Executive Committee to expel H. M. Herzog was adopted by the unanimous vote of the fitty-seven members present. Mr. Herzog was not present and was not represented by counsel. No remarks were made in favor of or against expulsion. The following new members were elected: Walter L. Sessions, ir., George H. White, Fredonis, N. Y.; Milton M. Fenner, Charles P. Ingersoll, Charles W. Manchester, Samuel Swayze, Charles A. ceived. A resolution was adopted providing for the ap-polatment of a committee of five to draft resolutions urging the passage of the Federal Election bill, and to lake the resolutions. take the resolutions to Washington and present them sonally to the New-York Senators and Representatives in Congress. The committee consists of President Winsor. H. W. Combs, H. C. Robinson, H. C. Calkins, A. M. Underhill. A suggestion made by the new president that the name of the club be changed to the Harlem Union League Club was referred to the Executive Committee.

WASHINGTON REPUBLICAN CLUB MEETING. The regular monthly meeting of the Washington Repub-ilean Club was held on Monday evening at the clubrooms, One-hundred-and-fifty-second-st. and Tenth-ave. A resolution proposed by H. B. Wilson deprecating the action of those Republican Senators who combined with their political op-ponents to prevent the final passage of the Federal Election bill was carried unanimously. A vote of thanks was ex-tended to Senators Hiscock and Evarts for their faithful efforts on behalf of the bill. The meeting also indorsed the tion of the Government in relation to the Behring Sea seal

SENATOR FARWELL BEGINS HIS FIGHT. Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18 .- The session of the Legislature o-day was mainly taken up with the introduction of bills. in the House a resolution was passed indorsing the free oinage of silver and instructing the Illinois Senators to vote for the bill on that subject now pending in the Sen-ate. On its adoption the Republicans refrained from voting and the Farmers voted with the Democrats. The Senatorship contest opened in earnest to-day with arrival of Senator Farwell. On Thursday evening th Republicans of the House and Senate will meet in joins ocus and nominate a candidate for the United States Senate. Indications to-day point to Charles B. Farwell as the man, but his friends have many obstacles to overcome beore that result is attained. Senator Farwell on being in

"My candidacy for the United States Senatorship is urely secondary and my first consideration is the success of the Republican party. There are three political parties in this Legislature, neither of which has a majority. cannot see how either party can elect a Sanator. SENATOR STANFORD TO SUCCEED HIMSELF. Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 13.—The Senate and Assembly believed to-day for United States Senator to succeed Leland Stanford. The vote in the Assembly resulted as follows: Stanford (Rep.), 50; Stephen White, of Los Angeles (Dem.), 18. In the Senate the vote was as follows: ford, 27; White, 12. The Legislature will declare the election of Stanford in joint session to-morrow.

SATAN REPROVING SIN The last meeting of the County Democracy County Com-mittee of 1890 was held last evening at Cooper Union, with Charles A. Jackson presiding and Charles J. McGee and M. J. Mulqueen, secretaries. The reports from the As-sembly Districts and wards were received in relation to the recent amendments to the constitution, the main provision of which abolish the Executive Committee and increase the membership of the County Committee from 480 to 947. All the districts voted for the change except the 1st and XVIIIIh. Ex-Senator Murphy's illness was said to account for absence of a report from the 1st. After the committee had fixed February 14 as the date for the pri-mary elections, Chairman Jackson made a farewell oration which was in some respects a unique performance. He attacked Tammany Hart for its successful efforts to allurmany from the County Democracy by promises of well-niled pockets, and then he proceeded to defend the liquor trade, which he said had the same rights as any other siness. Yet Tammacy had been using every possible in nuence on liquor dealers to get them out of the County Democracy and into Tammany Hall. They had been literaily compelled, he said, to go over to Tammany, or to go out of business. Indeed, Tammany had made it impo for honest liquor men to remain in business owing to the methods of Tammany policemen and Tammany police DIPLOMATIC RECEPTION AT THE WHITE HOUSE. Washington, Jan. 13 (Special).-The White House was to-night the scene of a large and brilliant recention, given by the President and Mrs. Harrison in honor of the Diplomatic Corps. The guesis asked to meet the diplomats were from Congressional, judicial, Army and Navy circles, as well as many persons from private life. The floral decorations were beautiful. guests came early, and when the President, with Mrs. Harrison on his arm, led the way to the Blue Room, the diplomats had already assembled in the Red Room The Secretary of State was the first to greet the President. The wives of the Cabinet officers assisting in the line were Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Wanamaker, Mrs. Noble, and Mrs. Rusk. The Secretary of State pre-sented the Diplomatic Corps, entering the Blue Room with the Italian Minister, the dean of the corps.

UNION LEAGUE'S EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The Executive Committee of the Union League Club met on Monday night and perfected its organization by electing on Monay hight and perfected to organization of electrical pulge Rufus B. Cowing chairman and A. H. Brown, George R. Sheldon and Frank E. Randall the House Committee, with Mr. Brown as chairman. No traces of the uphenval in the club last year are visible, and it evidently starts in the club last year are visible, and it evidently starts on a harmonious and prosperous year. An evidence of this is the fact that J. Scaver Page, the popular secretary, who defeated the regular ticket last year in an interesting contest, was supported by his former opponents, who yied with Mr. Page's friends last year in giving him their support. Mr. Page rivalled Mr. Depew in reconciling
